

Bridger-Teton National Forest Grand Teton National Park

Pre-Announcement Teton Interagency Helitack

GS-06/07 Lead Helicopter Crewmember on the Bridger-Teton National Forest / Grand Teton National Park

In Jackson, Wyoming

The Teton-Interagency Fire Management Program is planning to fill a Lead Crewmember position in the near future. The Vacancy Announcement and application portal can be found at www.avuedigitalservices.com . This is a permanent position (GS-0462-06/07) located in Jackson, Wyoming at the Teton Interagency Helibase. It will be hired through the US Forest Service and tour of duty will be 13/13. Additional information regarding the position can be found at the Teton Fires website: www.tetonfires.com

The Open Continuous Recruitment numbers for this position can be found at the Region 4 Fire Hire website and will be posted soon. To be considered please apply before the date listed on the R4 Fire Hire website at:

http://www.fs.fed.us/r4/fire/r4fire_hire/

Application deadline date is 01/23/2012

THE POSITION:

The program is interagency in its composition and mission. In addition to fire management the program provides search/rescue and project services directly to the Bridger Teton Forest and Grand Teton Park. Search and rescue missions also occur in support of area county Sheriff's Offices. Personnel and aircraft are regularly dispatched off-area when not required by local staffing requirements.

The position serves as one of four GS-07 Lead Crewmember for a 20 person, two helicopter fire management program located at the Teton Interagency Helibase. The Teton Interagency Helitack program has earned a quality reputation for professionalism and high standards. We are looking for an individual with the experience and attitude to build upon the success of the current program.

Housing may be available for this position in Jackson or Moose, Wyoming.

THE BRIDGER-TETON NATIONAL FOREST

At 3.4 million acres the Bridger-Teton is the second largest National Forest in the United States outside Alaska. It lies in Western Wyoming, adjoining Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks and within the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem, the largest remaining area of undeveloped land in the 48 conterminous United States. It is noted for its unusual scenery and natural features, large and diverse wildlife populations, and habitat for threaten and endangered species.

The Forest contains the headwaters of 4 major river basins: the Yellowstone (Missouri/Mississippi Basin); Snake (Columbia); Green (Colorado); and the Bear River (Great Basin). Seven major mountain ranges are found within the Forest Boundaries. These mountain ranges are part of the northern Rock Mountain and include part of the striking Teton Range and Wind River Mountains.

The Forest borders Jackson Hole, famous in the history of early explorers and fur traders, and winter home of the well-known Jackson elk herd. The Forest, with its Supervisor's Office in Jackson, is composed of the Jackson, Blackrock, Pinedale, Big Piney, Greys River and Kemmerer Ranger Districts.

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK

Grand Teton NP encompasses the Teton mountain range and a portion of the valley of Jackson Hole protecting both the scenic beauty of the alpine environment and the historic setting of fur trappers and early western settlement. The park and surrounding area offer an abundance of recreational opportunities including hiking, backpacking, and world-class mountaineering experiences. The Snake River flows through the valley floor in the park and provides for fishing and boating outings. A series of lakes along the base of the mountains (Jackson, Jenny, String, and Leigh Lakes) adds to the scenic beauty and photo opportunities of this high mountain setting.

THE COMMUNITY

The Town of Jackson

The Town of Jackson is the county seat of Teton County and the only incorporated municipality in the county. "Jackson Hole" as it's often called, refers to the whole area which is a 50 mile long valley surrounded by high mountains.

Jackson is a popular tourism destination because of its proximity to Yellowstone & Grand Teton National Parks, its unmatched scenic beauty, the world-class skiing, and its western character. For tourism information, including listing of lodging, restaurants, and shopping, please contact the Jackson Hole Chamber of Commerce at 307-733-3316 or on the web at www.jacksonholechamber.com. For further information on Teton County go to the following link: <http://www.tetonwyo.org/>

This spectacular valley in the mountains offers residents and visitors alike an unparalleled array of outdoor activities for year-round enjoyment. From world-class skiing, snowmobiling, backcountry touring and dog sledding in the winter to hiking, rafting, fly fishing, mountain biking and rock climbing in the summer. There is fun and challenge for everyone.

In addition to the incredible scenery and unlimited recreational opportunities, Jackson is also known for its genuine western charm, as the fifth nationally recognized arts center in the nation, and for quality events such as Old West Days and Fall Arts Festival.

Once primarily a community comprised of ranchers, Jackson's residents now pursue careers in a broad range of industries from ranching to hospitality and tourism, construction, professional services and technology.

The highly diverse community, seasonal residents and vacation homeowners, add to the special feel of this small western town.

Due to the abundance of public lands and the conservation efforts to protect open space, the Town of Jackson has a very limited amount of land for development. Many individuals commute from areas such as Victor and Driggs, Idaho, and Pinedale, Alpine and Dubois, Wyoming.

Although Jackson Hole has undergone change since homestead settlement in the 1880's, the reasons people come to the area remain the same. The old West feeling of small town hospitality, the people, scenery and recreational activities continue to attract people from all over the country and world.

The Fort Hall Indian Reservation is home to Shoshone and Bannock people about 120 miles away in Idaho. In the Riverton/Lander area only 130 miles away, the Wind River Reservation is shared by Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho. Powwows and other cultural activities occur frequently throughout the summer.
