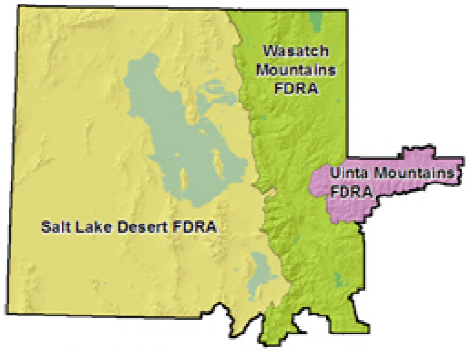
Fire Danger Interpretation

Dispatch Levels	Burning Index - Model G
	Uinta Mtns	Wasatch Mtns
High: Potential for high to extreme intensity. Expect high rates of spread, flame length, and control difficulty.	59 +	69 +
Moderate: Anticipate moderate fire intensity. The BI can change rapidly with variable weather conditions.	40 - 58	42 - 68
Low: Expect low fire intensity. Containment should be attainable. However, always be cautious.	0 - 39	0 - 41

Local Thresholds: any of these factors significantly increase the potential for extreme fire behavior. The more factors present, the greater the risk.

Weather at 13:00 (LST)	Uinta Mtns FDRA	Wasatch FDRA
20-ft Wind (mph)	> 6	> 7
Relative Humidity (%)	< 18	< 18
Temperature (°F)	> 73	> 83

- Wind Gusts exceeding 30 mph will increase the probability of erratic fire behavior and large fire growth.
- Microbursts are powerful downdrafts associated with thunderstorms which can seriously affect the spread rate, intensity, and direction from several miles away.
- Lake Effect Winds will enhance up-slope winds (in the afternoon) & down-slope winds (after sunset) resulting in unexpected fire intensity adjacent to the Great Salt Lake and Utah Lake.



Burning Index (BI) Facts:

- BI is an index representing the potential difficulty containing a fire due to flame length (intensity) at the head of the fire
- BI is very sensitive to small fluctuations in wind speed
- BI will be different for each NFDRS Fuel Model
- In Northern Utah, BI with Fuel Model G has a very good statistical correlation to large fire occurrence
