Critical Incident Peer Support Groups

What We Do

Critical Incident Peer Support Groups (CIPS) provide the following:

- Situational assessment for managers to help determine the timing and type of support needed for each incident. Each process is put in place based on a methodical approach. Tactics are applied at the right time, in the right place and under the right circumstances.

- The CIPS Group provides information about critical incidents and stress reactions that employees can use to help identify healthy life choices. The team provides a confidential atmosphere of concern and caring as well as identifying personal options for dealing with stress.

- Commitment to providing services only within our established Boundaries of Competence and Standard of Care based on our education, training and supervised experience.

- Provide a CIPS Group which includes the expertise of a licensed, professional mental health care provider who is experienced in trauma

- Support Incident Management Teams, militia and non-fire personnel affected by an incident.

- Provide peer supporters who can travel to the fire line, spike camp and other remote locations.
