Announcements:

Per the Sublette County Sheriff's Office, there have been improvements to the evacuation status for the Dollar Lake Fire. See the Evacuations section below for more information.

There will be a community meeting this evening, September 3, from 6 to 7 p.m. at The Place Bar and Grill located at 2000 N. Highway 352, Cora, Wyo.

FIRE ACTIVITY:

The Dollar Lake Fire is currently at 15,243 acres and 31% containment.

Today, crews will improve indirect line constructed between Little Sheep Mountain southeast to Big Sheep Mountain. Within coming days and dependent on conditions, fire crews plan to conduct strategic firing operations between the indirect line and the southeastern perimeter of the fire. Increased fire activity and smoke can be expected during this operation.

Crews on the west side of the fire continue to mop up and patrol to ensure the fire remains within established control features, as well as work with resource advisors on plans for suppression repair. On the northern end, crews are mopping up and reinforcing existing control features, if needed. Crews continue to construct and improve direct line between Little Sheep Mountain and the Bible Camp area. The structure protection group continues to bolster defense systems around the Bible Camp area and improve defensible space. In the event of a new incident, the structure group will support local resources with initial attack.

WEATHER:

Another warm and dry day is expected today. Some cloud buildup and mostly dry (virga) showers are possible this afternoon which could bring outflow winds again. A breezy northwest wind is expected today with humidity dropping near 15 percent and highs in the mid-70s. Similar conditions are expected on Thursday, although with slightly elevated winds and increasing clouds in the afternoon.
