Over the last few days, NICC has had to increasingly engage with Geographic Area Coordination Centers to coordinate allocation of resources and fill orders for most national resource types. Potential for significant incidents emerging in multiple Geographic Areas indicates that resource demands will continue to increase. Due to these factors, the National Preparedness Level (PL) will increase to four (PL4) at 0730 MDT, tomorrow July 12th.

06/21/2025	0935	Significant wildland fire activity is now occurring in multiple Geographic Areas with the potential for additional large wildland fires to emerge. Over the last few days, NICC has had to increasingly engage with Geographic Area Coordination Centers to

		coordinate and fill orders for most national resource types. Further, a drawdown of resources on non-active Geographic Areas may pose a challenge if existing fuel and fire weather conditions change in those areas. Due to these factors, the National Preparedness Level (PL) will increase to three (PL3)
