Firefighters Plan Spring Prescribed Burns in Mesa and Western Garfield Counties

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. — Federal fire officials from the Upper Colorado River Interagency Fire and Aviation Management Unit West Zone are hoping conditions will be conducive in the next several weeks to complete three prescribed fires on Bureau of Land Management lands in Mesa and western Garfield counties.

Prescribed fires reduce dense vegetation and other fuels to lower the risk of large wildfires and stimulate new vegetation growth that benefits wildlife.

Firefighters are planning the following burns to reduce natural fuels and improve wildlife habitat:

- The 400-acre Palisade prescribed burn five miles east of Palisade in Mesa County
- The 200-acre Farmers Canyon prescribed burn approximately 17 miles south of Grand Junction in Mesa County
- The 250-acre Hay Canyon prescribed burn approximately 24 mile north of Loma in western Garfield County

Fire managers have developed a detailed prescribed fire plan and obtained smoke permits from the State of Colorado for each of the planned burns. Residents may observe smoke during these burns.

“We will only ignite these prescribed fires if conditions are ideal for a safe, effective burn, as well as for good smoke dispersal away from area communities,” said Jeff Phillips, fire management specialist with the Upper Colorado River Fire Unit. “We evaluate weather, moisture and fuel conditions before deciding whether to proceed, and human safety is always our top priority.”

The Upper Colorado River Interagency Fire and Aviation Management Unit (UCR) includes Bureau of Land Management and U.S. Forest Service firefighting resources that cover 5.8 million acres along the Interstate 70, Colorado River and Roaring Fork River corridors from the Continental Divide to the Utah state line. The UCR includes the White River National Forest and the BLM’s Colorado River Valley and Grand Junction field offices. The UCR cooperates with other federal and state agencies, local communities, and fire departments on a wide range of activities including fuels treatments, fire prevention, and suppression.
