

TRAINING ANNOUNCEMENT

2018 Black Hills Interagency Fire School

Course Dates: May 21st -May 25th 2018

Location: Boxelder Job Corps, Nemo, South Dakota

Nomination Process:

Federal Employees: All nominations for federal employees must be submitted through the Incident Qualification Certification System (IQCS) nomination process. Courses provided through the 2018 Black Hills Interagency Fire School are S-130, S-190, L-180, and ICS-100. IS-700 is not included so please make other arrangements for your employees to take that course online. The home unit must enter each nominee into IQCS for each of these courses. Session numbers in IQCS are as follows: S-130 (03011), S-190 (02811), L-180 (02693), and ICS-100 (02426). These courses will be finalized in IQCS by May 25th, 2018, giving students certification for successful course completion. If students have completed the courses and are not in IQCS at that time, it will be the responsibility of their home unit to create and enter course completion information.

Non-Federal Employees: All non-federal employees may submit an NWCG Interagency Training Nomination Form and send it to the Course Coordinator, information provided below.

Jared Hohn-Course Coordinator/Planning Section Chief

Nomination Deadline: May 1, 2018

Tuition: $0.00

Lodging and Meals: Campsites and meals are provided by Boxelder Job Corps at the cost of approximately $100.00 for the entire session, which is to be covered by the participant's home unit. Costs for FS employees will be processed through an accounting adjustment. Non-FS employees will be required to pay this amount by cash or check (payable to USDA-FS) when checking in at fire school on May 21st.

Please send nominations, if employee is not in IQCS, and any special needs of participants, such as allergies, special dietary needs, medical needs and anything else that might be of concern, to the course coordinator no later than May 4th. This information is important for planning and logistical purposes.

Please direct questions or concerns to Jared Hohn at (605) 673-7935 or jjhohn@fs.fed.us.

Please read the following information thoroughly!

The course is scheduled to commence on May 21st, 2018 at 0730 and conclude on the afternoon of May 25th, 2018. Weather permitting, there will be a field day exercise during the week. The course will be held at the Boxelder Job Corps (22023 Job Corps Place) NW of Nemo, South Dakota. Travel arrangements should be made to meet these dates and times.

The 2018 Black Hills Interagency Fire School is intended to provide individuals with the required training courses and experience for entry level firefighters. Provided training courses include: ICS-100 Introduction to Incident Command System (ICS), L-180 Human Factors on the Fireline, S-130 Basic Firefighter Training, S-190 Introduction to Wildland Fire Behavior. Training courses include classroom time as well as practical exercises and a field day. All courses taught will meet NWCG standards and regulations. Students who successfully complete the 40 hours of training will receive certificates at the end of the week.

An additional objective of this training course is to provide entry level firefighters the opportunity to experience a fire camp environment. For this reason, all participants are required to tent camp on site for the entire training period. Restroom and shower facilities are provided on site. Three meals per day will be provided by the Boxelder Job Corps. There is no cell phone service on site.

Students are required to have personal protective equipment (PPE) for practical exercises and the field day exercise for safety reasons. Personal protective gear and equipment should be provided by the student's home unit. Additional recommended gear may be provided by the home unit or individual. It is highly recommended that students complete the Arduous Work Capacity Test prior to attending this training.
