Course Description:

The intent of the Annual Fireline Safety Refresher Training (RT-130) is to recognize hazards; mitigate risk; maintain safe practices; and to reduce accidents and near misses, vectoring us towards the goal of zero fatalities. RT-130 is required for all positions as identified in Forest Service Fire & Aviation Qualifications Guide \(FSFAQG\).

All incident going personnel must be prepared to function safely and effectively in the wildland fire environment. Nationally, some ICS positions have been identified as “required” to attend RT-130, such as positions in fireline operations, aviation, incident commanders, safety officers, etc. Additionally, other ICS positions, such as positions in dispatching, finance, logistics, and plans, are no longer required to attend. I encourage everyone who engages in wildfire activities to attend RT-130. The information sharing, lessons learned, and relationship building which occur during refresher training is valuable to all personnel.
